Constitution Investigated By Committee

Semi-Annual Meeting of Students' Society Today

ANNUAL AND REVUE TO BE DISCUSSED

Financial Statements and Many Minor Points to be Brought Up

When the Semi-Annual meeting of the Students' Society takes place this afternoon in the Union Ballroom at 5 o'clock, several important questions will be brought up for discussion among the students. Financial statements of the McGill Union and the Students' Society will be delivered by members of their executive committees, and the Annual and the Red and White revue will be discussed. Every student should make it his business to attend this meeting, as everyone is given the opportunity of airing his views, and the opinions of students are welcomed.

Regarding the constitution of the Students' Society, which was investigated by a committee appointed last session, Gordon Nahn, President of this committee, will probably submit a report. This committee was chosen by last year's President of the Students' Council on the proposal of a motion by D. Munroe, and seconded by Jack Duckworth. This motion grew out of a proposal by Stuart Allen last March, but which was later withdrawn by him.

Another question to come under discussion will be that of the Red and White Revue. Its continuance on the Campus is objected to by many who refer to its rowdiness and display by some of the students at one of the performances last spring, and it is owing to such unpleasant occurrences that several students are of the opinion that it should be discontinued. On the other hand, however, apart from various other benefits derived from the Revue by the students body, it certainly helps the Students' Society a great deal financially, and that is a strong point in its favour.

The question of the McGill Annual has been referred to in the "Daily" for the last few days. It has been suggested that the year be taken from the Juniors' hands, and be turned into a general year book with the graduating pictures of the senior year be published instead of those of the Junior year, as at present. The advantages of this change have been pointed by T. H. Harris, last year's Editor-in-Chief of the McGill Annual, and should form an important and interesting point of discussion at this afternoon's meeting.

Among the reports to be submitted will be those of the McGill Union House Committee and also the financial statement of the Students' Society, and will probably be delivered by Mr. G. H. Fletcher, Secretary-Treasurer of the Students' Council, and Treasurer of the Union. Several other minor points will be brought up and put before the students, who will state their opinions on them.

COUPON NO. 3

Students Coupon No. 3 for the Queen's game will be exchanged for Students' Roster Tickets up till 5 p.m. Thursday, October 18th, at the Union. These tickets are not transferable.

FRESHETTES SUBJECTED TO SEVERE TREATMENT AT R.V.C. SOPHOMORES HANDS

Shortly after one o'clock on Tuesday the Arts building was the scene of the most unusual fights known in the annals of McGill, when the R.V.C. Sophomores administered punishment to Freshettes who refused to wear the badges of their station. Just before the close of the English lecture the enemy lay in wait armed with stern resolve, a number of sponges, and a pall of water. Members of the opposite sex, anticipating fun, gathered in a crowd behind the fair ones and waited expectantly. The first Freshie to come through the door, being minus her bib, received a sponge in the face and a kick in the rear. The insulting treatment was too much and the bold Freshie showed her indignation in the usual girlish fashion. She was quickly

Dropping of Sir Arthur's Libel Suit Denied

Denial that they authorized any person to serve notice of discontinuance of their appeal from the judgment of Mr. Justice Rose, awarding Sir Arthur Currie $500 damages for libel, is contained in the affidavits filed in Osgoode Hall today by W. T. R. Preston and F. W. Wilson. In papers filed by R. R. Hall today, notice is given that a motion will be made to the Appellate Court on Friday for an order setting aside the notice of discontinuance filed on October 13.

In his affidavit, Mr. Preston states: "I was not consulted in reference to the service of the said notice nor had I any personal knowledge of the service until I read in the public press of its discontinuance. I did not authorize, sanction or consent to the said action being taken on my behalf, and state that I desire that the said appeal should be heard."

Player's Club Meets Today

First Production Will Be Announced

IN STRATHCONA HALL

Production, Business and Publicity Committees to be Formed

The second general meeting of the McGill Players' Club for the current season will be held this afternoon in Strathcona Hall. The meeting will begin at 4:30, and during the first half-hour an informal discussion will take place concerning the plans and prospects of the club. At five o'clock the president, L. C. Shelly will address the meeting. He will announce the various appointments which have been made since the last gathering, and will also deal with any business on hand.

It is hoped that all those who were that the club can claim sixty members ten having been added since last week. With such a large membership, it is expected that the club will be able to carry out a much more extensive programme than last year. Committees will be formed within a week to attend to the production, publicity, and business end of club's work and it is hoped to put on a play sometime early in December.

The play-reading committee have held a meeting and discussed about two dozen possible plays. So far although many have been eliminated, no definite choice has been made. There are several very suitable plays to be chosen from, and the result will in all probability be announced at today's meeting.

The president requests that any students, who did not turn out last week and who are anxious to join the club, be present this afternoon.

Since, this afternoon, all members will be assigned to their various departments, it is absolutely essential that everyone shall be on hand at four-thirty, or, if that is not possible, at five o'clock. The meeting will be held in the same room as last week on the ground floor of Strathcona Hall.

McGILL vs. LOYOLA

The Intermediate game between Loyola and McGill will be played at 2:30 p.m. at the Stadium. Players to be at the Field House by 2 p.m. The Junior game with Loyola has been cancelled.

Tomorrow Will See Closing Of Book Exchange

Opens Again for a Week in the Month of January

SALES LARGE

Many Books Still Left on Shelf for Future Disposal

The Book Exchange, which has been one of the busiest parts of the Union since the beginning of this term, completes its lease of life tomorrow for several months. There are still many last-minute bargains for those who wish to get their textbooks as cheaply as possible, and of the six hundred books yet on hand most are prescribed for courses and are up-to-date.

Among these books are several volumes of Glide's "Principles of Political Economy," a two volume set of "Principles of Political Economy" by Tausig, Gore's "German Science Reader," Petrie's "Latin Reader," a shelf of books dealing with engineering and mechanics, and many textbooks of psychology and philosophy.

The Exchange will be open again for a week or thereabouts next January, when the second term begins. There are many books in stock which are not needed until the second semester, especially French plays and stories. Some of these are: "Les Trois Mousquetaires" by Dumas, "Le Cid" by Corneille, "Andromaque" by Racine, "Victor Hugo" by Gavroche, "Contes et Nouvelles" by Prosper Merimee, "Cinq Semaines en Ballon" by Jules Verne, and George Sand's "La Mare au Diable."

There are still several hundred books on the shelves of the Exchange, and probably more will be brought in next January 1 when the Exchange re-opens. These books are worth about seven or eight hundred dollars. During the first week that the Exchange was open sales ran as high as $200 per day, and the average sales during the whole period will approximate a hundred dollars per day. It is felt that the Exchange has been well patronized for the first year of its existence.

But while there has been a keen demand for books on the part of customers, in many cases the supply has not been equal to this demand, and would-be buyers have often been forced to go away without the books which they wished to buy. If students wish to buy at cheap rates the books which they need, textbooks must first of all be brought into the Exchange to be sold. This year books were brought in by only some hundred to a hundred and twenty-five students, but fortunately some of these students brought in as many as two dozen books. It is hoped that next year there will be a better response to the demand for books to be sold in the Exchange.

Newfoundland Club To Meet

Colonel Bovey Will Address Members Tonight

The McGill Newfoundland Club is beginning its season's activities tonight at 8 o'clock in Strathcona Hall. Colonel Bovey will be present and will give an address on an extended trip which he made through Newfoundland many years ago. After the meeting there will be a smoker, and refreshments will be served.

This Club is in its ninth year and its membership and strength have been increasing steadily. Newfoundlanders at McGill have always been active members, and keen interest has been shown in the Club by its alumni.

It is among the most successful sectional clubs at McGill and President Fitzgerald is determined that this year is to be the best in the history of the Club. He is confident that he will receive the entire support of its members.

Arts Undergrad

Will the executive of the Arts Undergraduate Society please meet the President in Bill Gentlemen's office for a brief meeting at 10:55 today. The following are requested to attend: Watt, Lewis, Spence.

Band Plans To Play At Track Meet Friday

Hope to Assist the Team in the Winning of Laurels

MAKES PRECEDENT

Today's Rooters Practice Postponed Because of Society Meeting

The University Band, for the first time in its history, will play at an Intercollegiate Track Meet on Friday. This innovation is caused by the feeling that McGill is going to capture the laurels and by the widespread interest which is being taken in the event.

The peppy strain of the band will no doubt urge on the athletes to added effort besides providing entertainment between the races. It will at least give color and variety to the Meet.

Chic Parish, the cheerleader, intends to utilize the Meet as a rooster's practice. He had intended to hold a practice today, but owing to the meeting of the Students Society he was unable to do so. Although the yells were given with vigor at the last rugby game, there was not enough unity to give the desired effect. To overcome this defect, Parish is asking for assistant cheerleaders. Those wishing to undertake these duties should meet the leader at the Union at five o'clock today.

Good rooting, however, depends on the student body as a whole, and they are asked to co-operate. The recent overwhelming victory of the McGill squad should call forth the unqualified support of all for the future game. By strong united cheering the students may demonstrate their appreciation and may also aid their team.

Call Issued For More Golfers

Fifteen Students Required for Match with Professors

A notice in the Daily some days ago with regard to the Students-Professors Golf Match has failed to bring in sufficient entries from the students. At least fifteen more students are needed to play, and their names and handicaps should be in the hands of Bill Gentlemen, Janitor of the Arts Building, not later than 5 o'clock today. Post-entries might be accepted at the Club, but it is far better to enter immediately.

Last year, the professors showed their superiority over the students and it is to be hoped that this year will show a complete reversal of the final score. The two teams will be published in the Daily on Thursday, and students are requested to get in touch with the professors whom they are to play sometime during the day.

The match will take place at the Royal Montreal Golf Club. There is a C.N.R. train leaving at 9:30 A.M., and a C.P.R. train at 8:20 A.M., for Summerlea. It is only a ten minute walk from Summerlea to Dixie.

Tennis Team Chosen

Intercollegiate Tourney to be Held in Kingston

The following five men have been selected to represent McGill in the Intercollegiate Tennis Tourney which is being held at Kingston this year. The Tournament begins on Thursday and will last until Saturday, being divided into singles and doubles. The first four named are the one who will play in the singles: Leslie, Lanthier, Hiltz, McMartin and Pacand.

Theology Elections

Both President and Vice-President of the Theological Undergraduate Society were elected last night at a meeting of that Society and those officers were filled by Agnew Johnston, Theo. '30 of the Presbyterian College and Thomas Davies, M.A., Theo. '30 of the United Theological College respectively.

These officers were left vacant by the fact that the President, Cal Hudson graduated last spring and that Jack Duckworth, the former Vice-President has transferred to New York to pursue his studies. The executive has matters in hand for the program for the session.

NO TUXEDOS ALLOWED AT FIRST INFORMAL

Rule Will Be Strictly Enforced — Opening Dance Follows Close on Conversat

The social season of the University will come into full swing on Friday, Oct. 26th, with the opening informal dance to be held in the Union Ballroom. This was decided yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Union House Committee.

Informals have always proved decidedly popular affairs due to the lack of restraint prevalent at more formal functions. There is no reason for this first social event not being just as entertaining and successful as those in previous years if the plans of the House Committee materialize. The orchestra has not yet been engaged, but the committee can be relied upon to procure one which will add pep and zest to the dancing.

Tenders for an orchestra are being called for and these should be in by Saturday, Oct. 20, in writing to the secretary of the McGill Union.

Special attention is drawn to the fact that tuxedos are utterly and absolutely taboo. There is probably an irresistible desire among the freshmen to sport their first tux, a momentous occasion in their lives, but postpone it they must. Informals at McGill are exactly what the name signifies and no evidences of anything more elaborate are wanted.

As has been customary, a buffet supper will be served in the course of the evening's proceedings in the Union Cafeteria. Adequate and delicious refreshments, for which there will be an unavoidable extra charge, are promised. Tickets will be available from class presidents, beginning next Saturday at $1.25 per couple.

Choral Society Discusses Plans

Opening Meeting Reveals Bright Outlook

The chief topic of discussion at the opening of the year of the Operatic and Choral Society, was the selection of a suitable theatre for the coming production which is to be H.M.S. Pinafore, and its "Curtain raiser" Cox and Box. Moyses Hall was suggested but after various discussion, a consensus of opinion showed that the His Majesty's was preferred to the Hall.

Mr. A. W. Swan, who had just arrived from Toronto, and who was last year's president of the Choral Society was present. He said that he was delighted with the interesting discussion and he spoke of the Student's Council, who he had learned was greatly impressed with the work accomplished by the Society in the past year. He said that this was a good thing since it was the Students' Council that financed the operations of the Society.

The musical director of the Operatic Society, Mr. Clapperton, then discussed the coming productions. The chief presentation is to be that famous and already popular opera H.M.S. Pinafore. Mr. Clapperton pointed out that there is to be a further production in the curtain-raiser "Cox and Box," which he said was crammed full of humour. This operetta would require no chorus, and only three male principals would be needed. To illustrate the High class of humour it contained he read a short portion of a scene.

The president, Mr. Scott-Macrae, then announced that a notice for rehearsal would be posted in the "Daily" and he hoped there would be regular turn-outs. In closing, Mr. Clapperton stressed the importance of the student body becoming more acquainted with the Choral Society. It was manifest, he said, that a great many students were ignorant of the Choral Society and of its functions.

At 9:30 the meeting was called to a close, refreshments were served, and the members were accorded the privilege of dancing to the popular music of the able and famous Jimmie Wright.

Circle To Hear Mr. Harry Starr

Names of Debators Will be Announced

The Macabean Circle will have the privilege of hearing a well-known speaker when Mr. Harry Starr, B.C.L. President of the Intercollegiate Menorah Society, addresses the members of the Macabean Circle at their next meeting in the Ballroom of the McGill Union on Sunday next, October 21st, at 3 o'clock sharp. Mr. Starr is making a special trip to Montreal in order to address the meeting.

Apart from being a well-known member of the New York Bar, Mr. Starr has for many years taken a great interest in student organization and affairs. It was for this reason that he was elected to the presidency of the Intercollegiate Menorah Association. The latter is an organization having many clubs throughout the American continent. The Macabean Circle has been a member for some years, and it is due to this connection with the Association that Mr. Starr is coming to Montreal.

The Intercollegiate Menorah Association has for its aim the advancement of Jewish culture and ideals. It publishes "The Menorah Journal", a magazine of high literary and cultural value, which all members of the Association receive. It aids clubs, such as the Macabean Circle, and the University of Toronto Menorah Society, in arranging their meetings and securing speakers. It also seeks to bring about closer contact between student clubs in the Universities of Canada and the United States. It is therefore expected that a large attendance will greet Mr. Starr on Sunday.

Women Plan Rifle Club

Majors Penkins and Pennell will Co-operate

McGill women students will have an excellent opportunity to hear all about the projected Rifle Club at the opening meeting of the McGill Women Students Athletic Association to be held at 1 p.m. on Friday in the R.V.C. Common Room.

Last spring so many women entered for the annual spoon shoot given by the Men's Rifle Club that it was thought that women might form a club of their own. At that time the project was met with much interest and enthusiasm and if these have not waned during the summer vacation the club will be formed.

The men have co-operated willingly to start the club. Major Jenkins has agreed to allow the women to use the men's rifles and Major Pennell has offered to instruct in the art of shooting and the use of the rifle.

All women students interested in shooting should come to Friday's meeting at the interest and enthusiasm shown at it will be the deciding factor in the formation of the club.

News Board

There will be a meeting of the News Board of the Daily tomorrow afternoon. All editors are requested to attend. Several pertinent matters must be discussed.

Magnetic Ore Easily Found By Dip Needle

Dr. Keys Began Course on Prospecting Yesterday

ORE AND OIL

Manner of Making a Magnetic Survey was Described

Magnetic methods of prospecting were dealt with by Dr. D. A. Keys in the first of a series of ten lectures on the modern applications of Physics to prospecting for ore and oil in the Macdonald Physics Building last night. Dr. Keys described several simple types of magnetometers and variometers, and illustrated their use by actual experiments during the lecture.

This course on prospecting is intended for mining men, engineers, physicists and others who may be interested. It will cover the same ground as the course given last year with some additions of recent developments. The lecture will be given by Dr. A. S. Eve and Dr. D. A. Keys. Both professors were engaged in prospecting all last summer in Colorado.

Dr. Keys first reminded his listeners of their elementary knowledge of magnetism and pointed out how the earth behaved as a magnet. Maps have been drawn of the lines of equal declination and the lines of equal dip for different regions all over the earth. The three important magnetic quantities at any given point are the earth's horizontal component, the vertical component and the angle of dip.

In making a magnetic survey with the dip needle of any given territory it is necessary to find the value of the angle of dip at different stations and (Continued on page three)

Centenary To Be Observed

Schubert Orchestral Concert on November Nineteenth

The Centenary of Schubert is to be celebrated November nineteenth by an orchestral concert in Moyses Hall.

Dean Perrin of the Faculty of Music stated that the concert would be similar to the one given in memory of Beethoven in 1926. The orchestra will be composed of fifty noted musicians of Montreal. The opening number of the program is the Unfinished Symphony which will be followed by Overture and Incidental Music to Rosamunde, concluding with one of Schubert's military marches.

"Schubert as a melodist stands unrivalled. Although many may be familiar with his songs this opportunity of renewing acquaintance with some of his orchestral compositions should not be missed by music lovers," stated Dr. Perrin.

The centenary of this composer has been observed in many cities, that in Vienna the city of his birth, being of special interest.

Even at this early date a large number of reservations for this concert have been made and any who have not obtained tickets may do so at the Conservatorium of Music, Sherbrooke St. W. Tickets are $1.50 (including tax).

Officers Elected

Science 30 Choose Neville as President of Class

At a meeting yesterday Science '30 elected its class officers and representatives. The following were returned: President H. R. Neville, Vice-Pres. J. A. Ogilvy, Sec'y-Treas. R. H. Yeomans, Junior Prom Rep. C. W. Nolan, Class Basketball Manager Eric Wykes, Class Hockey Manager R. E. Manson, Annual Rep. W. F. Thomas.

DO YOUR PART

Matters which will have a far-reaching affect in undergraduate life are to be placed before the student body this afternoon in the Union. In addition to the usual financial and other routine reports an especially important one concerning the proposed reorganization of the constitution of the Students' Society is to be submitted.

Last spring there was considerable agitation about prominent men holding several major executive offices, and a motion was introduced at the Students' Society Meeting in March to limit the number of offices of classified kinds which one man might hold. It was felt by certain members, however, that there were several other revisions necessary in the constitution, and a substitute motion was presented and carried, under which a committee was appointed to investigate these various matters.

The results of the work of the Committee will be seen this afternoon. The report represents the carefully considered opinions of a group which has made a close analysis of the questions involved. It will be well worth hearing.

Below there is an article concerning the proposed changes in the status of the Annual, a very important question in itself. The perennial question of what to do with the Revue will again be threshed out, and the financial statements which have been printed in the Daily the past two days will be formally submitted.

It is not very often that so many really momentous questions come to before a single meeting, and the Council hopes that a more representative gathering will be present than usual. There are plenty of people who will only be too glad to go around saying that something was "put over". They are the kind who do not go to the meetings. Turn out and show that our much-vaunted self government is real self government.

MINING AND MCGILL

The series of lectures inaugurated last night on modern methods of electrical and magnetic prospecting by the Physics Department is a rather unique one. This subject is so new that few authoritative books are available to the engineer and prospector. Probably the most up-to-date is a small pamphlet written by Drs. Eve and Keys and published by the U.S. Department of Commerce last year which outlines the fundamental physical principles involved.

Last winter a course of lectures, similar to the present set, was given by the Department and was very well attended, particularly by professional mining men. The new series proposes to review former work, and to describe the results of the field work done during the past summer. For those who think that these new-fangled methods are just some more theoretical bunk, the case of Professor Beiler, who was engaged by the Australian Government to carry on this work all over Australia for two years, is a good answer.

The astonishing increase in mining activity in Canada during the past few years is one of the brightest spots in the present economic standing of the country. The older districts in Ontario around Sudbury, Cobalt, Timmins, etc. have never seen better days; the Nova Scotia steel and coal industry has improved greatly since the disastrous strikes four years ago; Alberta coal, under the impetus of reduced freight rates is gradually moving east, while in the west it has for some time been used in preference to water power for generating electricity.

An even more significant sign of progress is the number of new fields being opened. Rouyn, Red Lake, Flin Flon, to mention but a few. The members of the Physics Department have been working during the past two summers, some in Northern Quebec, some in Colorado, others in Texas following the trail of the elusive iron, silver, oil and other minerals, developing and experimenting with these newer methods of prospecting.

There is much yet to be learned, but the importance of their work is appreciated and acknowledged by professional mining men, a distinct tribute to one of the most active group of professors at McGill.

SENIOR ANNUAL FAVORED

Among the subjects to be brought up at this afternoon's meeting of the Students' Society is that of changing the Annual, as now constituted, from a Junior Year Book to a Senior Year Book. The scheme, which is to be presented by last year's editors, appears to have many advantages, among which are to be cited lower expenditure on pictures and a complete record of college affairs.

The reason why the scheme has never been adopted before is the undoubted inconvenience which will be caused during the year in which the change is to take place. But the Students' Council in deliberating over the matter the other day, thought that the advantages accruing after the change was made, would quickly make up for any temporary trouble.

It is somewhat surprising that McGill follows no other college in this matter of the Annual. All universities to our knowledge have senior year books, which are a compendium of all the activities of the whole four years of a student's life. The biographies are thus more complete than under our present system. Furthermore, graduation pictures are taken, instead of having a duplication in this sphere. Again, there is an added dignity to a year book of the graduating year, which can be truly called a university annual, over the status of a book which is admittedly the record of the junior year. With this added dignity it is thought that in future years the book should greatly add to its circulation.

The students will be asked to pass a motion regarding the matter this afternoon, and it is hoped that they will seriously consider the matter, as well as all others that are brought before this afternoon's semi-annual meeting.

CAULIFLOWER AND CABBAGES

By "S"

THE BORE

Again I hear that creaking step!—
He's rapping at the door!—
Too well I know the boding sound
That ushers in a bore.
I do not remble when I meet
The stoutest of my foes,
But heaven defend me from the friend
Who comes—but never goes!

He drops into my easy chair
And asks about the news;
He peers into my manuscript,
And gives his candid views;
He tells me where he likes the line,
And where he's forced to grieve;
He takes the strangest liberties,—
But never takes his leave!

He reads my daily paper through
Before I've seen a word;
He scans the lyric (that I wrote)
And thinks it most absurd;
He calmly smokes my last cigar,
And coolly asks for more;
He opens everything he sees—
Except the entry door!

He talks about his fragile health,
He tells me of the pains
He suffers from a score of ills
Of which he never complains;
And how he struggled once with death
To keep the friend at bay;
On themes like those away he goes—
But never goes away!

He tells me of the carping words
Some shallow critic wrote;
And every precious paragraph
Familiarly can quote.
He thinks the writer did me wrong;
He'd like to run him through!
He says a thousand pleasant things—
But never says "Adieu"

When'er he comes—that dreadful man—
Disguise it as I may,
I know that like an Autumn rain,
He'll last throughout the day.
In vain I speak of urgent tasks;
In vain I scowl and pout;
A frown is no extinguisher—
It does not put him out!

I mean to take the knocker off,
Put craps upon the door,
Or hint to Bill that I am gone
To stay a month or more.
I do not tremble when I meet
The stoutest of my foes,
But heaven defend me from the friend
Who never, never goes!

A PLEA IN A MID-WESTERN STATE

Gentlemen of the Jury—The Scripture saith, "Thou shalt not kill"; now, if you hang my client, you transgress the command as sick as a goose, and as plump as a goose egg in a loafer's face. Gentlemen, murder is murder, whether committed by twelve jurymen, or by a humble individual like my client. Gentlemen, I do not deny the fact of my client having killed a man, but is that any reason why you should do so? No such thing, gentlemen; you may bring the prisoner in "guilty"; the hangman may do his duty; but will that exonerate you? No such thing; in that case you will be murderers. Who among you is prepared for the brand of Cain to be stamped upon his brow to-day? Who, freemen who in this land of liberty and light? Gentlemen I will pledge my word not one of you has a bowie-knife or a pistol in his pocket. No, gentlemen, your pockets are odoriferous with the perfumes of cigar cases and tobacco. You can smoke the pipe of a peaceful conscience; but hang my unfortunate client, and the scaly alligators of remorse will gallop through the eternal principles of animal viscera, until the spinal vertebrae of your anatomical construction is turned into a railroad for the grim and gory goblins of despair. Gentlemen, beware of committing murder! Beware, I say of meddling with the eternal prerogative! Gentlemen, I adjure you, by the unannounced ghost of temporal sanctity, to do no murder. I adjure you, by the name of woman, the mainspring of the tickling timepiece of time's theoretical transmigration, to do no murder! I adjure you, by the love you have for the esculent and condimental gusto of our native pumpkin, to do no murder! I adjure you, by the stars set in the flying ensign of your emancipated country, to do no murder! I adjure you, but the American Eagle that whipped the universal game-cock of creation, and now sits roosting on the magnetic telegraph of time's illustrious transfiguration, do no murder!

And lastly gentlemen, if you ever expect to wear store-made coats—if you ever expect free dogs not to bark at you—if you ever expect to wear boots made of the free hide of the Rocky Mountain buffalo—and, to sum up all, if you, ever expect to be anything but a set of sneaking, loafing, cut-throated small ends of humanity, whittled down into indistinguishability, acquit my client, and save your country.

The prisoner was acquitted.

Correspondence

Correspondence is welcomed by the editor, providing writers obey the rules of a newspaper office, and use one side of the paper only. The name of the writer must also be attached, not necessarily for publication.

The Editor,
McGill Daily,
Sir:—

It grieves me exceedingly to have recourse to your columns to relieve my feelings, but I feel entitled to an explanation of the exact meaning of the last sentence of the first paragraph of your leading editorial in Tuesday's issue. If that sentence was meant to be funny it was a hopeless miff. If it was supposed to be serious I hope it is not generally indicative of the general state of mind of your editorial staff.

The only redeeming feature of the sentence in question is the fact that a senior member of your staff has described it as "tripe." Expressions used by an other senior member of your staff in respect to this sentence are not publishable in a college journal.

Yours etc,
Lex Hortensia

The Editor,

Sir:—

If there is one jarring note about our education, it is the new bell in the Redpath Library. No more may the student plead that he missed the conference because he became so engrossed in his reading. No longer the pleasant slumbers after the night before. No more the exquisite reveries in the eyes of across the way—alas—'tis a rude awakening—

WHEN OUR "TOKENS" WERE USED FOR CHANGE

Founded before Canada had any currency of its own, the Bank of Montreal early obtained authorization from the Government to issue copper tokens for small change.

Reproduced herewith is a one-penny token of 1858. The obverse shows the building then used by the Bank; the reverse bears the arms of the city of Montreal.

Throughout its long history, the Bank of Montreal has always been active in serving the financial needs of the people of Canada, steadily extending its service as the need and opportunity arose.

Loyola Players Practise With McGill Today

Seniors in Heavy Preparation for Queen's Game

TREMAIN RECOVERED

Coach Frank Saughness's Loyola Intermediate champions will provide the opposition for the McGill seniors in a practice scrimmage at the Molson stadium this afternoon. The first team is preparing for the game with Queen's on Saturday, and will welcome the stiff opposition that is sure to be offered by the young but hefty intermediate squad.

The Loyola firsts play a scheduled league game against the McGill intermediates this afternoon, and plan to do the scrimmaging with the seniors after they have completed their joint with the seconds. In their last meeting last Wednesday, the Loyola squad came through with a 41 to 0 victory over the red intermediates, and evidently expect no great competition from the same team today.

A great number of fans will likely be out at the stadium to watch the Saughness-coached squad in action. The team is said to have tricky set of plays, and a skilful heavy twelve to execute them. Among the stars of the Loyola squad is young Quinn Saughness, a son of the former McGill senior. Quinn has been the scoring ace of his squad this season, going over the line for about a dozen touches thus far. How he will fair against the heavier McGill line will be watched with interest this afternoon.

The foggy drizzle yesterday did not prevent the McGill first squad from turning out to practice for the all-important Queen's game. Although the visibility was not more than 25 feet, the squad went through a signal drill that lasted long after darkness had fallen over the gridiron.

Ken Tremaine, kicking half, who was kept out of last Saturday's game against Varsity through an injured knee, will likely be out on the field again this afternoon. Tremaine's injury mended more quickly than was expected, and it is almost certain now that the rainy half will line up with the team against Queen's.

Jerry Altman, who wrenched his arm at practice last week will likely be out of football for the whole season. The snapback's arm has been rather slow on the mend, and fearing permanent injury to his arm, he will likely be kept off the gridiron for the remainder of the season.

R.V.C. will Play Ground Hockey

Initial Practice to be Held at Stadium Today

Another innovation has been inaugurated by the Dept. of Physical Education for women this year, namely an R.V.C. Ground Hockey Team. There are quite a number of girls who are interested in this sport, and for this reason it has been included in the sports curriculum.

The initial practice will be held today at 2 o'clock in the stadium. Miss Black will act as coach. All those who would like to play are asked to turn out. Balls and sticks will be provided. Participants are advised to wear heavy shoes.

If there is sufficient material for a good team, games will later be arranged with the School of Physical Education. Regular practice hours are to be arranged later, and notices will be in the Daily.

USHERS ATTENTION

The following freshman ushers are expected to be at the stadium on Saturday for the Queen's game. Any men who cannot possibly be there are requested to phone H. M. Boyce, U.P. 5947.

Aylen, Bowman, Greig, Crabtree, Hamilton, Gale, Lafleur, Scott, Schofield, Gillean, Scarlett, Doig, Armstrong, Gerin, Cross, Kaine, Fulkner, Brand, Currie, Baldwin, MacLeod, Cooke, Saunders, MacFarlane, Hart, Kay, Calder, Yelland, Horne, Chalk, Alkman, Doucet, Byers, Ginnell, Walker, Clarke, Butler, Black, Clark, DeBellies, Palmer, Shortall, Henderson, Gravel, McKerton, Little, Wolf, Secker, Atto, Wills, Martin, Ramsdale, Moise, Lloyd, Wight, Ward, McHugh, Brice, Roberts, Jolley, Pope, Jones, Woods, Anderson, Harkness, Ritchie, Duer, Roblin, Hollingsworth, Parkinson, Innes, Lyon, Doody, Montgomery, Sutherland, McKeown-Smith, Ellis, Miller, Chateauvert, Davis Crestoni.

CLASS PRESIDENTS

Please obtain, at once, from the janitor in your building, a list that has been left there for immediate circulation among the out-of-town members of your class. These have to be circulated at once, and handed in before Thursday completely made out for use in the Directory.

What's Doing In The Inter-Faculty Rugby

Our first game will be played shortly. There will be a practice this afternoon at 3 p.m. on the small campus.

EQUIPMENT

Equipment for the Interfaculty teams may be procured at the Union between the hours of nine and two today. Managers please note.

ARTS RUGBY

Will the following please turn out for the game against Medicine this afternoon at 3 p.m. on the Campus: Stockwell, O'Meara, Sise, Hewart, Maule, Calder, Macdonald, Ledford, Black, Minnes, F. MacKenzie, Calhoun, Alexander, J. Johnson, Gemmel, McMaster and any others who have turned out and are interested.

The following schedule has been adopted for the first half of the Interfaculty Rugby League. The grouping is the same as that of last year, namely Arts, Law and Medicine in one group, and Dentistry, Commerce and Science in the other. All games commence at 3 o'clock sharp.

Wed. Oct. 17.—Arts vs. Meds.
Thurs. Oct. 18.—Dentists vs. Science.
Mon. Oct. 22.—Law vs. Arts.
Tues. Oct. 23.—Commerce vs. Dentists.
Wed. Oct. 24.—Meds. vs. Law.
Thurs. Oct. 25.—Science vs. Commerce.

It is imperative that every player be examined before the game begins.

Football Squad May Go To B.C.

Invitation for Seniors Received

The McGill senior football team may take a jaunt across the continent to play the college champions of British Columbia if plans now proposed are realized. A McGill coach received an invitation from private interests in British Columbia, inquiring as to the possibility of sending a squad out to the Coast, and if financial matters can be arranged and permission received from the University, the red squad will probably leave about the middle of December on a trip that would set a record in the matter of distance travelled to play an intercollegiate game.

While there are several difficulties standing in the way of the McGill representatives making the trip, among these the fact that the hockey squad is scheduled to appear in New York about the same time, it is not unlikely that McGill will set a precedent in an east-west football struggle toward the close of the year. As the matter stands now, the project has been brought before the university authorities for permission, and as soon as this is obtained, plans for the journey will go ahead rapidly.

The match will be played against the titleholder of the Western Intercollegiate union, and will most likely take place in Vancouver. While the players themselves have had very little time to discuss the matter, there seems little doubt that the men are keen on making Canadian football history by travelling across the continent to settle the east-west supremacy on the gridiron.

then to draw curves through the points at which the angles are the same. When prospecting with the dip needle, one must draw curves of the variations of the horizontal and vertical components of the magnetic field over the region one is prospecting. If there is any magnetic ore in the ground then there will be marked changes in the value of the magnetic field over it. In this manner ore can be detected and its position in the earth found, Dr. Keys declared.

The lecturer showed his audience several of the instruments actually used in prospecting. Among these were the Kew magnetometer, the Thalen-Tiberg magnetometer, and the Thomson-Kohlrausch horizontal variometer which could be used to obtain results correct to one part in 1,000. The most commonly used variometer is the Aekank horizontal and vertical instrument. This is provided with an optical system for taking readings and can be used for very accurate work.

Dr. Keys illustrated his lecture with a number of slides. A picture of the manner in which magnetite occurs in nature was shown. Most of the magnetic mines now in operation were found by the simple dip needle method.

Several tables and curves of the magnetic properties and variations of the region where Dr. Keys and Dr. Eys did their prospecting last summer were shown to the audience. Dr. Keys also had a few photographs of this district.

In his next lecture next Tuesday, Dr. Keys will complete his talk on magnetic prospecting.

Varsity Track Entries Show Strong Squad

Queen's Sending Large Representation for Meet

MOLSON STADIUM

With Toronto's and Queen's list of entries for the Intercollegiate Track Meet already received interest in next Friday's competition at the perched Molson Stadium is waxing keener, and track and field enthusiasts should witness one of the best meets on record when the boys step on the field in search of the championship that has been held by Varsity for the last three years.

The Queen's entry list was received at a late hour last night and indicates that the tri-colour will send down one of the largest teams to represent them thus far in the intercollegiate meet. The interfaculty meet was held in Kingston yesterday and brought to light no startling performances. There were no records broken. Agnew, who is a member of the Queen's football squad, will also represent the tri-colour in the track meet, the day before, being entered in the century dash, the 220 hurdles, the broad jump, and the high jump.

Varsity's team this year is, on paper, considerably weaker than last, as in Fitzpatrick, Mabce, Christie and Graham they have lost their most consistent point-getters, but they still have several outstanding performers in Finlayson, Mitchell, Vila, Davenport and McTaggart. Finlayson is a star both on the cinderpath and in the field, and is entered in five events. There ought to be a merry race between Drew, of McGill and Finlayson for individual honours in the meet. Mitchell, Davenport and McTaggart are all former winners for the Blue and White, while Vila is a miler from Hamilton with a great reputation.

The full Varsity team is as follows. It must be remembered that three men may be entered for an event, but only two start. In the relay, six men may be entered and four run.

100 yds.—Finlayson, R.W. Connolly, W. A.
220 yds.—Connolly, W. A., Somerville, A.A., Finlayson, R.W.

Soccer--Gossip

With the steady drizzle which kept coming down all day yesterday and the thick fog which pervaded the campus in the afternoon, the interfaculty match scheduled for 4 o'clock, between Arts-Commerce and Medicine, was postponed. This is the second match of the series that has been put off, the other being the Medicine and Theology match, which was to be played last week. These two games will probably be played after the end of the regular schedule has been completed, unless some other arrangements can be made.

McGill Hockey Games Arranged

University of Montreal Officially Dropped from Union

University of Montreal officially dropped out of the Intercollegiate hockey union yesterday, when the McGill Athletic office received notice to that effect from the authorities of the French University.

The move was not altogether unexpected as the University of Montreal has expressed its desire to drop out of the union at the end of last season. The French students are interested in local hockey to such an extent that interest in intercollegiate games was at a low ebb, and the team was carried at a financial loss. The working of the four-year rule also necessitated a much weaker squad this year, so that the University of Montreal authorities deemed it advisable to sever connections with the intercollegiate body.

The move leaves only Toronto Varsity and McGill in the intercollegiate league, and it looks as if a home and home series between the two universities will comprise the intercollegiate schedule for this year.

The move to form an international intercollegiate hockey league will probably not go through this year. McGill has already arranged to play a series of four games across the line during the Christmas vacation. The red sextet will open their American season against Yale on December 22 at New York. On the 26th they meet Dartmouth, also at the Madison Square Garden. On December 27th the McGill squad will meet the University Club at Boston, and on New Year's eve they again play Dartmouth at Boston.

Boxers Started Training Grind

Large Turnout Attended First Workout of Season

Over forty men were on deck at the initial workout of the season for boxing under the guidance of Coach Bert Light, who seemed highly enthusiastic about this year's prospects. Lud Horn, clever 125 pound boy, who worked his way into the finals last season, being defeated only by the former Intercollegiate Champion, Barney Musselman, has been selected to act as Manager of the Boxing Club, assisting John Arnold, who holds the managerial reins of the B.W. and F.

A full half hour of steady floor calisthenics, combined with three rounds of shadow boxing, concluded the preliminary exercises before the actual boxing took place. The coach arranged the men in pairs according to their weights and made everyone box three rounds, following their twenty minutes previous theory instruction.

The Coach himself boxed about fifteen rounds with different men of advanced experience. A large turnout

All members of the team taking part in next Friday's meet are requested by Coach Van Wagner to be at the Field House at 4 p.m. this afternoon, in order to try out the new uniforms. Every man MUST be present.

GOLD SEAL

A revolutionary new pen

PERFECT

OUT of the great diversity of fountain pens now emerges GOLD SEAL, the master pen of all. Not in a week, or a month, or a year, did it come into being. Ten years of research, of study, and hard, exhaustive experiment lie behind this new perfection in writing instruments.

Eversharp has long been acclaimed the world's finest pencil. To-day, the GOLD SEAL pen moves, at once, into place on the same high level of achievement.

Thousands will buy a GOLD SEAL this Autumn. Why not be among the first to experience the pride of owning—of showing—of using this amazing pen, years ahead of its time?

Examine a Wahl-Eversharp GOLD SEAL in the stores to-day. Admire its beauty—feel its perfect balance—tingle to the pleasure of writing with a PERFECT pen.

GOLD SEAL pens are modestly priced at$8.

(Over-size Black and Pearl models at $10)
